

Future skills to boost innovation and productivity for the Financial Services industry

The Financial Services Skills Commission Future Skills in partnership with Lloyds Banking Group is launching the Future Skills report 2023 on Thursday 27 April – 11:30-12:30pm, 125 London Wall, Moorgate, London, EC2Y 5AS.

The UK has seen record labour shortages over the last year, which has increased the demand for specialised technology and data skills, underpinned by behaviours such as coaching. Firms are working to address this through internal upskilling and reskilling programmes, but the skills gaps remain a huge challenge for the industry. Hosted by the Financial Services Skills Commission & Lloyds Banking Group, this event will bring together senior executives across the industry and provide a platform to discuss the importance of identifying and forecasting future skills to retain talent and boost innovation and productivity.

Key speakers confirmed for the event include:

Sharon Doherty, Chief People and Places Officer at Lloyds Banking Group

Katy Kasper, Head of HR, Capital One UK

Jig Ramji, Group Head of Talent, London Stock Exchange Group

Caroline van der Feltz, HR Director, Danske Bank UK

Claire Tunley, CEO, Financial Services Skills Commission

Register for the event online here

There will also be an opportunity for the audience to ask questions during a panel discussion.